Cubans González / Díaz retain the crown

BARRANQUILLA. August 1, 2018. Sergio González and Nivaldo Díaz, from Cuba, managed to straighten out a complicated encounter and based on a good block they won in an exciting final 23-21, 18-21, 15-13 to Lombardo Ontiveros/Juan Virgen, from Mexico, in the final of the men's beach volleyball of the XXIII Central American and Caribbean Games Barranquilla 2018.

It is the second consecutive title of González/Díaz, and Cuba's fourth gold medal in beach volleyball in the Central American and Caribbean Games, while Mexico is left with four silver medals.

Gonzalez/Diaz won the first set against a demanding Mexico, who in the second after being tied at 13, took advantage with two blocks of Virgin and two Ontiveros attacks, who also delighted the fans with two high-level defensive actions.

In the third set both teams maintained the parity to 3 points, but Cuba took control with blocks of Gonzalez and Diaz showing an impressive defense that raised the applause of the attendees.

Big defensive plays and some rallies adorned a great final at the Puerta de Oro Events Center.

Sergio Gonzalez pointed out that "this was the goal of this year and we got it, it was a demanding game, I failed in complex 1 (reception), but my partner at all times gave me encouragement, and that encouraged me."

Nivaldo said that "it really was a demanding game, we failed on both sides due to the pressure. We were confident of our ability and things went quite well. I think the audience enjoyed it, there were good rallies and a lot of intensity in the game. "

"We respect Mexico a lot, it's a great team, but we get the best out of us", added Nivaldo.

Johan Murray/Jorge Luis Manjarres, of Colombia, won the bronze medal by defeating 21-18, 21-19 the Venezuelan duo Carlos Rangel/José Gómez.

Cubanos González/Díaz retienen la corona

BARRANQUILLA. 01 de agosto, 2018. Sergio González y Nivaldo Díaz, de Cuba, lograron enderezar un complicado encuentro y a base de buen bloqueo superaron en una emocionante final 23-21, 18-21, 15-13 a Lombardo Ontiveros/Juan Virgen, de México, en la final del voleibol de playa masculino de los XXIII Juegos Centroamericanos y del Caribe Barranquilla 2018.

Es el segundo título consecutivo de González/Díaz, y cuarta medalla de oro de Cuba en el voleibol de playa en Juegos Centroamericanos y del Caribe, mientras México queda con cuatro preseas de plata.

González/Díaz ganaron el primer set ante un México exigente, que en el segundo luego de estar empatados a 13, tomaron ventaja con dos bloqueos de Virgen y ataques de Ontiveros, quien también deleitó a los aficionados con dos acciones defensivas de alto nivel.

En el tercer set ambos equipos mantuvieron la paridad hasta los 3 puntos, pero a partir de ahí Cuba tomó el control con bloqueos de González y Díaz mostrando una impresionante defensa que levantó los aplausos de los asistentes.

Grandes jugadas defensivas y varios rallies adornaron una gran final en el Centro de Eventos Puerta de Oro.

Sergio González señaló que “este era el objetivo de este año y lo conseguimos, fue un partido exigente, fallé en el complejo 1 (recepción), pero mi compañero en todo momento me dio ánimos, y eso me alentaba”.

Nivaldo dijo que “realmente fue un partido exigente, fallamos en ambos lados debido a la presión. Estábamos seguros de nuestra capacidad y las cosas fueron saliendo bastante bien. Creo que el público disfrutó, hubieron buenos rallies y bastante intensidad en el juego”.

“Respetamos mucho a México, es un gran equipo, pero sacamos lo mejor de nosotros”, agregó Nivaldo.
