Two FIVB World Championship tickets up for grabs at Women's NORCECA

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, August 25, 2021. - Two tickets for the 2022 FIVB World Championship are up for grabs between seven national teams at the 2021 Women's NORCECA Continental Championship that starts August 26 in Guadalajara, Mexico.

Head coaches gave their first insights about the competition and their teams' preparation.

Shannon Winzer, Head Coach of Canada: "We've had a really good preparation leaning into NORCECA. We have a very young team and obviously there's been a change of players between 2019 and now, so we have really young players with a lot of energy and they can compete. We're going to make errors for two reasons, because of our lack of focus or because it's just where we are in our journey right now and the team really understands that".

Pablo Acuña, Head Coach of Costa Rica: "We are excited to be back competing at a senior NORCECA event. The team consists of mostly U23 players that recently competed in Aguascalientes, so the teams' dynamic and chemistry is really good. These twelve players and 10 others have been working since the beginning of the year preparing for the Central American Championship in Nicaragua at the end of this year and this will be an opportunity to compete, measure our team against teams with good level and make a diagnosis of how we are, decide what to work on and improve for that event".

Marcos Kwiek, Head Coach of Dominican Republic: "We have a good group, it's a mix of young experienced players and others are veterans, and other young players that recently won the NORCECA U23, it's an interesting team. When we go to competitions our goal is always to win the competition, we will work hard to reach our first goal that is to qualify to the world championship and then we'll see what happens".

Rafael Petry, Head Coach of Mexico: "Mexico has been preparing since April, we had small working sessions and held preparation matches against Colombia. The team is focused on three goals, reaching the final, qualifying to Worlds' and winning a medal. México is thinking big, in having better results and the players are really motivated, I consider we can reach our goals by working, doing our side respecting all our opponents".

Fernando Morales, Head Coach of Puerto Rico: "Our Professional League is being held at the moment so we only had three practices together before coming here, we are at a disadvantage against Mexico who has been training all summer with a new coach, Canada played in VNL and United States at their training Center. Our advantage is that individually they are in good rhythm of play because of the Professional League, and I expect to improve with each match".

Courtnee Mae Clifford, Head Coach of Trinidad and Tobago: “Part of the team stayed here in Mexico after the U23 competition and we worked only in the gym and swimming pool, but not on court; the rest of the team that just arrived here trained three times that week. We expect to try to compete and use it as a measuring stake to figure out what we need to do both with the administrative side and on the volleyball court. Hopefully this tournament will be an example of things to do and not for the future; but with the addition of the senior players we hope to put up a better showing”.

Joseph Trinsey, Head Coach of United States: “We know this is the start of the World Championship qualifications and our players are excited to be here. We have a young group of players that are hoping to break through with the USA national team, most just graduated and this is their biggest event ever representing USA and is really excited after the success of the Olympics”.

Dos boletos al Campeonato Mundial FIVB en juego en NORCECA Femenino

GUADALAJARA, México, 25 de agosto de 2021.- Dos boletos para clasificar al Campeonato Mundial de 2022 de la FIVB están en juego en el Campeonato Continental NORCECA Femenino 2021 que inicia el 26 de agosto en Guadalajara, México.

Los entrenadores dieron sus primeras impresiones sobre la competencia y sobre la preparación de sus equipos.

Shannon Winzer, Entrenadora de Canadá: “Tuvimos una muy buena preparación antes de llegar al NORCECA. Tenemos un equipo muy joven y obviamente ha habido un cambio de jugadoras entre el 2019 para ahora, así que son jugadoras muy jóvenes con mucha energía y saben competir. Cometeremos errores por dos razones, por nuestra falta de concentración y porque allí es en donde nos encontramos en este momento y el equipo lo entiende”.

Marcos Kwiek, Entrenador de República Dominicana: “Tenemos un buen grupo, es mezcla de jugadoras jóvenes con experiencia y otras ya veteranas, además de algunas jóvenes que acaban de ganar el NORCECA Sub-23, es un equipo interesante. Cuando salimos a competir la meta es siempre ganar la competencia, acá vamos a trabajar para el primer objetivo que es clasificar al mundial y luego vamos a ver qué pasa”.

Pablo Acuña, Entrenador de Costa Rica: “Estamos muy emocionados de competir en un evento mayor de NORCECA. La base del equipo es la selección Sub-23 y que viene de disputar el evento en Aguascalientes, por lo que la dinámica y química del equipo. Estas doce jugadoras y otras 10 más vienen trabajando desde principio de año preparándose para el Campeonato Centroamericano de fin de año en Nicaragua y esta será una oportunidad de competir, medirnos con equipos de buen nivel y hacer un diagnóstico de cómo estamos para definir qué tenemos que trabajar y mejorar para ese evento”.

Rafael Petry, Entrenador de México: “México viene preparándose desde abril, hicimos micro ciclos de trabajo y tuvimos partidos de preparación contra Colombia. El equipo está enfocado en tres objetivos aquí, llegar a la final, conseguir la clasificación al Mundial y obtener una medalla. México viene pensando en grande, en obtener mejores resultados y las jugadoras están muy motivadas, considero que podemos alcanzar nuestros objetivos trabajando, haciendo lo nuestro respetando a todos los rivales”.

Fernando Morales, Entrenador de Puerto Rico: “En estos momentos se desarrolla la Liga Profesional de Puerto Rico y únicamente pudimos tener tres entrenamientos con el equipo antes de venir, estamos en desventaja porque México tiene todo el verano entrenando con un nuevo entrenador, Canadá estuvo en la VNL y Estados Unidos en su centro de entrenamiento. La ventaja es que de manera individual traen un buen ritmo de juego por estar en la Liga profesional, por lo que sé que vamos a mejorar con cada partido”.

Courtnee Mae Clifford, Entrenadora de Trinidad y Tobago: “Una parte del equipo se quedó acá en México después de la competencia Sub-23 y estuvimos trabajando de gimnasio, en la piscina, pero no en la cancha; el resto del equipo que acaba de llegar entrenó tres veces en esa semana. Esperamos competir y utilizarlo como medición para entender qué hacer a nivel administrativo como en la cancha de voleibol. Esperamos que el torneo sea un ejemplo de cuáles cosas hacer y cuáles no para el futuro; pero ahora con las jugadoras mayores en el equipo esperamos hacer una mejor actuación”.

Joseph Trinsey, Entrenador de Estados Unidos: “Sabemos que este es el inicio de la clasificación al Campeonato Mundial y nuestras jugadoras están muy emocionadas de estar acá. Tenemos un grupo de jugadoras jóvenes que buscan hacer un buen papel con la selección nacional de EEUU, muchas están recién graduadas y esta es la competencia más grande en la que han representado a Estados Unidos y están verdaderamente motivadas luego del éxito en las Olimpiadas”.
