Raphael Isaac, Virgin Islands coach: "This was definitely a game I thought we should have won, but we committed too many unforced errors. However, as I always say, I see the team progressing with each passing day, and I am sure we will learn from this, fix our mistakes, and play at a higher level."

Now the tournament essentially starts over; we need to prepare and wait to see who our opponent will be tomorrow."

Iván Marquez, Venezuela's coach: "Mexico is a good team; we knew we'd have a chance to compete. I think they came out very organized. In the first set, when we tried to execute our tactical plays, they were always well-positioned, making it an uphill battle for us to respond. They ultimately closed out the match, but I believe the team played better than yesterday, and we will continue to improve.”
