The 2026 NORCECA Men's Final Six Begins in Ponce

PONCE, Puerto Rico, August 19, 2026.— The NORCECA Men's Final Six returns to Ponce for its sixth edition, scheduled from August 23 to 29 at the Juan "Pachín" Vicéns Auditorium.

The competition will feature Puerto Rico (host), Canada, Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Mexico, and the United States.

The preliminary round will be played in a round-robin format from August 23 to 27.

The United States enters the event as the three-time defending champion.

In last year's edition, the United States claimed the gold medal, Puerto Rico earned silver, and the Dominican Republic took bronze.

Mexico finished fourth, Canada fifth, and Suriname sixth.

The head coaches assessed their teams ahead of the tournament.

Canada – David Preston

Canada looks to bounce back after an atypical fifth-place finish in 2025.

"The team that was here last year was one of our university teams, not our national team. They represented the country after winning the previous national championship. This year, the team is part of our national program, so last year's result was an anomaly. Our performance at the Pan Am Cup and our matches in Mexico have been good preparation to compete here against strong opponents. This group is looking forward to the challenge."

Dominican Republic – José Mañón

The Dominican Republic looks to build on the progress that earned it bronze in 2025.

"We came to stay on the podium. We brought the full team; we are only missing last year's setter. We arrived from Mexico with this same group, and we are going to fight for another medal. I don't know what color, but we are going for one."

Guatemala – Lucas Mora

Guatemala returns to the Final Six for the first time since 2021, marking an important step for the national program.

"Returning to this type of event is very important for us because these are the highest-level teams in NORCECA. It gives us the opportunity to face them and play at this pace. We know it's a very tough and demanding competition, but we came to make the most of it and do our best. The players are motivated, and we want to have a good tournament. This is the same group from our pre-selection, and we are happy to be here and enjoy the competition.”

Mexico – Carlos Schwanke

Mexico, a medalist in 2021, 2023, and 2024, seeks to return to the podium after missing out last year.

“Mexico always aims for the highest positions. Right now, we are fighting to improve our world ranking, and this competition is fundamental for our path toward our dreams: qualifying for the World Championship and then the 2028 Olympic Games. Every tournament is essential to add points and get closer to our objectives.”

Puerto Rico – Alberto Jamille Torres Rosario

The Puerto Rican head coach emphasized that facing the three-time defending champion raises the competitive bar, while reaffirming his team’s ambition.

“The U.S. team arrives practically the same as last year, but reinforced. We won the silver medal last year, and playing at home brings more pressure, but it also excites us. No one believed we would beat Cuba at the Central American Games or Canada at the Pan American Cup. We cannot aspire to anything less than bringing home a gold medal for our people.”

United States – William Reid Priddy

The three-time defending champion arrives with a roster that gained valuable competition experience in Mexico.

“This group has worked very hard over the summer. We just got back from Mexico, which was our first competition of the summer for this particular group. We prioritize this event and intend to play as hard as we can and continue to get better.”

Comienza en Ponce el NORCECA Final Six Masculino 2026

PONCE, Puerto Rico, 19 de agosto de 2026.— El NORCECA Final Six Masculino regresa a Ponce para celebrar su sexta edición del 23 al 29 de agosto en el Auditorio Juan “Pachín” Vicéns.

La competencia reunirá a Puerto Rico (anfitrión), Canadá, República Dominicana, Guatemala, México y Estados Unidos.

La ronda preliminar se disputará bajo el formato de todos contra todos del 23 al 27 de agosto.

Estados Unidos llega como tricampeón defensor.

En la edición pasada, Estados Unidos conquistó la medalla de oro, Puerto Rico obtuvo la plata y República Dominicana el bronce.

México finalizó en cuarto lugar, Canadá en quinto y Surinam en sexto.

Los entrenadores analizaron el estado de sus equipos de cara al torneo.

Canadá – David Preston

Canadá busca recuperarse tras un atípico quinto lugar en 2025.

“El equipo que estuvo aquí el año pasado era uno de nuestros conjuntos universitarios, no nuestro equipo nacional. Representaron al país tras ganar el campeonato nacional previo. Este año, el equipo forma parte de nuestro programa nacional, así que el resultado del año pasado fue una anomalía. Nuestra actuación en la Copa Panamericana y los partidos en México han sido una buena preparación para competir aquí con rivales de alto nivel. Este grupo está deseoso de asumir el reto.”

República Dominicana – José Mañón

Los dominicanos quieren seguir avanzando tras obtener la medalla de bronce en 2025.

“Venimos para mantenernos en el podio. Traemos el equipo completo; solo nos falta el colocador del año pasado. Venimos de México con este mismo grupo y vamos a buscar otra medalla. No sé qué color, pero vamos a buscar una.”

Guatemala – Lucas Mora

Guatemala regresa al Final Six por primera vez desde 2021, un paso significativo para el programa nacional.

“Volver a este tipo de evento es muy importante para nosotros porque aquí están los equipos de mayor nivel en NORCECA. Nos da la posibilidad de enfrentarnos y jugar a este ritmo. Sabemos que es una competencia muy difícil y fuerte, pero venimos a sacarle provecho y hacerlo lo mejor posible. Los muchachos están motivados y queremos hacer una buena competencia. Este es el mismo grupo de nuestra preselección, y estamos contentos de llegar hasta aquí y disfrutar el torneo.”

México – Carlos Schwanke

México, medallista en 2021, 2023 y 2024, busca regresar al podio tras quedar fuera el año pasado.

“México siempre ambiciona las mejores posiciones. Ahora estamos peleando por mejorar en el ranking mundial y esta competición es fundamental para nuestro camino hacia nuestros sueños: la clasificación al Campeonato Mundial y luego a los Juegos Olímpicos de 2028. Cada torneo es esencial para sumar puntos y acercarnos a nuestros objetivos.”

Puerto Rico – Alberto Jamille Torres Rosario

El dirigente nacional destacó que enfrentar al tricampeón defensor eleva la exigencia del torneo, al tiempo que reafirmó la ambición del conjunto boricua.

“El equipo de Estados Unidos llega prácticamente igual al del año pasado, pero reforzado. Ganamos medalla de plata el año pasado y jugar aquí en casa nos pone más presión, pero también nos emociona. Nadie creía que le ganaríamos a Cuba en los Centroamericanos y a Canadá en la Copa Panamericana. No podemos aspirar a menos que traer una medalla de oro para nuestra gente.”

Estados Unidos – William Reid Priddy

El tricampeón defensor llega con una plantilla que adquirió valiosa experiencia competitiva en México.

“Este grupo ha trabajado muy duro durante el verano. Acabamos de regresar de México, que fue nuestra primera competencia del verano para este grupo en particular. Priorizamos este evento y tenemos la intención de jugar tan fuerte como podamos y seguir mejorando.”
